INSIDE THE STATEHOUSE

A WEEKLY UPDATE ON STATE LEGISLATION AFFECTING WORKING FAMILIES

DATE: 03/5/2010

Dear Partner,

As you know, the 2010 Indiana General Assembly session is drawing to a close. The Indiana Institute for Working Families has been continuing to monitor and track active state legislation. In addition, we have been working with public policy analysts and legislators in an attempt to pass important legislation for Hoosier workers and their families. It was our intention to publish a summary of the key legislation passed today, as the end of the legislative session was expected last night. However, the end of the legislative session has been postponed. As a result, key legislation is still before our legislators so we will postpone this publication until session ends. We look forward to distributing a full summary as soon as it is possible.

If you have any questions about the legislative session or the Institute's policy work, you may direct them to Jessica Fraser at jfraser@incap.org.
